OBSTETRICS

Pregnancy is an exciting time but occasionally it may be complicated with certain medical conditions. Our aim is to treat pregnancy as normal as possible but to remain vigilant to any potential complications.

We will always aim for normal vaginal delivery during labour but medical intervention will be recommended when we think it is necessary. We always respect our patients' wishes and will do our best to accommodate these wishes as long as it does not compromise the safety of both mother and baby.

Dr Tan has considerable expertise with complex high risk pregnancy (multiple pregnancies, pregnancy complicated with medical condition, fetal anomalies).

Dr Tan offers access to Non Invasive Prenatal Testing (NIPT), as well as Amniocentesis and CVS testing in addition to informative and sensitive genetic counselling.

Dr Tan will endeavour to be present at your delivery, however sometimes this may not be possible therefore assured of the best quality private obstetric care at all times. Dr Tan works collaboratively with a group of experienced Obstetricians who provide cover for deliveries and emergency care at times when Dr Tan is on leave. Patients are therefore assured of the best quality obstetric care at all times.
